

Misook's body language during the over one hour police interview with Detective Wykoff was always with crossed arms and legs

After Detectives Wykoff and Burns leave the room at 12:36 p.m., until which time the tape ends at 12:47 p.m., Misook remains in this position with the exception of looking at the address book on the table for one minute